SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT AT SMU

On Wednesday, December 7, at 7 P.M. the Southeastern Massachusetts University/ Regional Young Adults Chamber Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in the Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Building at SMU (use parking lots 8-9-10 directly behind the building). The concert is free to all. Classical and pop works past and present will be performed. Sharing the podium will be Ann Danis and Vincent F. Luti. Ms. Danis is assistant conductor of the Fall River Symphony and Cape Cod Symphony. She recently was the conductor of the Central Massachusetts District Concert.

The SMU/RYA Symphony, in its second year, is funded through student fees. The goal of the orchestra is to create at SMU a fine opportunity for not only SMU students, who form the core of the orchestra, but also Junior High, Senior High, and college age students within the area of the SMU community to participate in the performance of chamber and orchestral music. It also serves to introduce area public school students to the university and the activities of the Music Department. This year's orchestra draws on students from Fall River and the Dartmouth school systems. Students from SMU and other surrounding towns are especially encouraged to attend

Day of Art

REGIONAL ART FAIR AT SMU

"Once a year the Art Education Department of Southeastern Massachusetts University and the cooperating regional art teachers demonstrate the variety and joys of their art teaching to the general public. To add joy and creative expressions through the experience of art to the community. To have a day of art just for the sake of enriching the celebrity aspect of our lives."

This is how Peter London, a professor of Art Education at SMU, describes the purpose of the Regional Art Fair to take place at SMU Saturday, December 10. Radiating from the Group 6 Building across the campus, free workshops for children and their parents or guardians will explore all areas of art from the typical to the extraordinary. Experiences with drawing, painting and sculpture will be complemented by such uncommon activities as maskmaking, improvisation theatre and Russian egg-painting and batik. Young and old are invited to try their hands at weaving, sandcasting, kite-flying, printing, finger-painting, and creating collages, murals and environmental cardboard sculpture. Such mysterious workshops as "Lost in Space Maze" and "Texture Treasure Hunt" await Saturday for further explanation. SMU faculty and graduate students will join area teachers and residents from the surrounding community to conduct these indoor and outdoor groups.

The fair is the fourth in what is hoped will become an annual series. Events will begin at 10:00 and continue through 1:00 P.M.

Ashumet Holly Sale

At the Ashumet Holly Reservation in East Falmouth, the red, orange and yellow holly berries are at the height of color. To celebrate the season, the public is invited to walk the self-guiding nature trails and enjoy the wide variety of holly as well as many unusual trees and shrubs.

Each year, the Friends of Ashumet, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schultz of Hyannis, hold a Christmas Holly Sale and use the proceeds to help maintain the holly reservation. This year's sale will be held December 10 and 11 from 10 to 4 P.M.

can enjoy refreshments while selecting from a variety of fresh greens for decorating or for gift giving. Swags, wreath, cut or potted holly and other greens will be included in the sale. Most of the plants in the sale are grown on the property.

Wilfred Wheeler, a former Commissioner of Agriculture for Massachusetts, established the holly forest by selecting plants from different areas for both their beauty and their hardiness. He was interested in extending the northern boundary of the growing range of holly. His success if evident by the number of trees throughout North America that were cuttings from some of Wheeler's parent plants.

Ashumet, a wildlife sanctuary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, is located on Route 151 in East Falmouth.

"Messiah Sing" - Join In!

MESSIAH SING TO BE HELD DECEMBER 16

The Sippican Choral Society has invited area choirs and choruses, as well as the general public, to join in singing portions of the Messiah on Friday, December 16th, at Old Rochester Regional High School.

The event, so popular last year, will benefit the Marion Center for Human Services.

Peter West, Director of the Sippican Choral Society, noted that the special performance will be accompanied by orchestra, and he has arranged for four soloists to sing selected parts of the score. Mrs. Patricia Mackensen and Miss Polly Maynard will sing soprano and alto, and Mr. Montgomery Throop and Mr. Herbert Repass will take the tenor and bass solos.

Anyone wishing to participate in this year's Messiah Sing should be at Bristol Auditorium,

DUFF PLUMBING ANNOUNCES

We have added another truck to our fleet expressly for the Marion, Wareham & Rochester area residents. We have had such an increase in calls that we have decided to install a direct, toll-free "'Hot Line" for these customers. We have our plumber, Chet, who is a local resident and knows the area well. He will have a well-stocked supply of plumbing needs right at hand.

Are you disappointed to find yourself waiting two days for a plumber, then have him arrive with a helper to carry the tool box, and receive a bill for two men? We pride ourselves on sending one man on service calls.

We take good care of our old customers; it is new customers we are looking for.

The elves have the Hay Wagon all ready to pick up a load of ANTIQUES. They hope you'll call us if you want to sell the ANTIQUES you haven't used for years and may never use again. Harry says he loves ANTIQUES, but he also likes some "cash in his pocket". Joe says he likes ANTIQUES too, but he also likes "money in the bank". So, the elves live with the Antiques they love and use, just like the rest of us. But, in order to have "cash in the pocket" and "money in the bank" they sell the things they never use. Must say that sounds like a smart thing to do. I sold some of my "SURPLUS" recently and I know I'm going to love my Raccoon Coat this winter, and I have some money left to buy some ANTIQUES, too! PLEASE, no letters. I gave those coons fair warning I didn't like having my trash cans upset, night after night, after night! Just call 758-6267 and we'll make an appointment to help you turn your SURPLUS into CASH.

Yes, Virginia, the Hay Wagon will be for sale, just as soon as the elves get it unloaded.

Library.

Mrs. Bernard Baker, chairwoman of the event, reminds the public that the benefit is for a good cause. "The SMU Library now has 181,500 volumes on its shelves. To meet the standards of a university with 5,000 students and 300 faculty, SMU should have a minimum of 270,000 volumes in its library. It will cost $1,500,000 to make up the difference. The SMU Library desperately needs the community's aid. Please help the students of SMU by attending the benefit showing of "Telefon".

Refreshments will be served following the movie.
